From Potential to Performance: Four Keys to Engaging Employees

JULY 2009
LUNCH N' LEARN

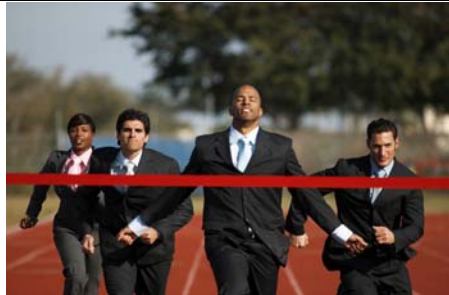

How do you keep employees from checking their brains at the door when they come to work? Research has revealed several important factors that enhance engagement and, hence, productivity. Please join us for lunch as Tony Cipollone, training and human resource consultant, will share the research and a story to illustrate how the levers of engagement work.

You won't want to miss it.
